Any Deposit required from the Borrower pursuant to the terms of the Offer will be held by the Lender’s bank in a separate Deposit account in the name of the Lender, held to the order of the Lender, and secured in such manner as the Lender may require. Unless otherwise stated by the Lender such Deposit will attract full off-set of Interest for so long as the debit balance of the Loan account exceeds the credit balance of the Deposit account.

The Borrower irrevocably authorises the Lender to deduct (at its discretion) from any Deposit:

- 2.2.1 all Interest due pursuant to the Offer but unpaid;
- 2.2.2 all fees costs and other monies due and owing from the Borrower to the Lender but unpaid; and

- 2.3.3 The Borrower will inform the Lender in writing immediately if the Borrower discovers any variations which will or may increase the sum potentially payable in respect of such costs. In such circumstances the Lender will require the Borrower to contribute the full amount of such excess in cash before any further Advance may be drawn or alternatively at its absolute discretion the Lender may reduce proportionately any such Advance to ensure in either case that the agreed amount or the Maximum Loan or any individual maxima therein, or any Maximum Aggregate stipulated in the Loan, are not exceeded.
- 2.3.4 Valuations or certificates required in connection with Advances for construction costs must be issued (in each case in a form and upon terms acceptable to the Lender) by architects, chartered surveyors, quantity surveyors or other practitioners previously approved and instructed by the Lender in writing and who in each case have accepted those written instructions. If the Lender becomes aware of any breach of this obligation it may (apart from any other right or remedy) refuse to make further Advances to the Borrower. If in the absolute discretion of the Lender it should decide to make such further Advances despite such notice, it may open a new account or accounts with the Borrower. If the Lender does so it shall be treated as having done so at the time it became aware of the breach and as from that time all payments made by or on behalf of the Borrower to the Lender will be credited, or treated as credited, to the new account and will not reduce the amount owing from the Borrower to the Lender at the time when the Lender received the notice.
